

National Association of Women Business Owners' Atlanta Chapter Recognizes Essie Escobedo

In 2008, Essie Escobedo, Founder, Office Angels received an honor from her peers. She was nominated for NAWBO-Atlanta's prestigious WE Shine Award, which recognizes a woman business owner who has owned her business for three to five years.

To qualify for this nomination, Essie's company had to show extraordinary revenue increases across the most recent three-year period as well as a solid foundation and clear growth strategy for the future.

The women business owners who nominated Essie agreed that she is an inspiration to other women – both those who are operating a business now and others who are considering starting a business.
